Plant This Fall for Good Results Next Spring

The rush of work that must be done in the spring makes it desirable to do as much as possible in the fall. The soil is warm then but not too wet. The planting season extends over a longer time than in the spring, and the moderate weather that comes before freezing time gives the newly transplanted roots a chance to get established. Then when spring comes, they are ready to start immediate growth.

At the end of the summer you have a pretty good idea of what is needed to improve your garden. While these plans are uppermost in your mind, it is advisable to carry them out. And then, in the fall the nurseryman has more time to fill orders and is able to send you first-class plants fresh from the field.

ROSES

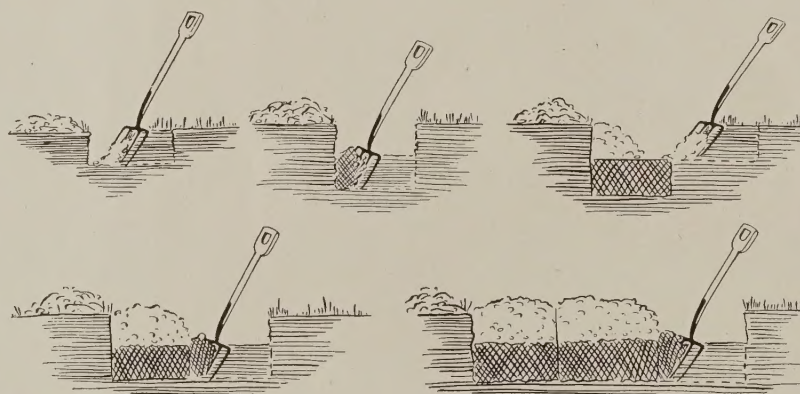

Set the bushes 15 to 18 inches apart, either in a bed by themselves or along the edge of a shrubbery border in groups of three to five. Dig a good-sized hole for each plant and mix some well-decayed stable manure or commercial fertilizer with the soil. Spread out the roots and sift the soil carefully over them. Pack firmly in place. For winter protection, hill up the soil around each bush to a height of several inches. After the ground freezes, cover with leaves or evergreen boughs.

PERENNIALS

Late summer and early fall planting of perennials will bring good results if done in cloudy, damp weather or in the evening. Be sure to firm the soil well around the plants, but cultivate the top soil to keep it loose and thus prevent evaporation of water. A mulch of leaves or strawy manure applied after the ground freezes will help to bring the plants through the winter without injury. A mulch only a few inches deep is sufficient; it should be removed gradually in the spring.

BULBS

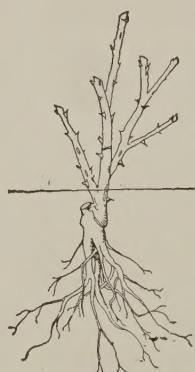

Early fall is the time to plant spring-flowering bulbs. Spade the ground well and work bonemeal into it. If the soil is inclined to be heavy, place a handful of sand in each hole before setting the bulb. Narcissus are planted about 4 inches deep, tulips slightly deeper. Smaller bulbs are set only 1½ to 2 inches deep. A mulch will prevent frost from heaving the bulbs out of the ground. Straw, hay, or leaves may be used.

Preparing soil for rose-bed by working manure into the bottom

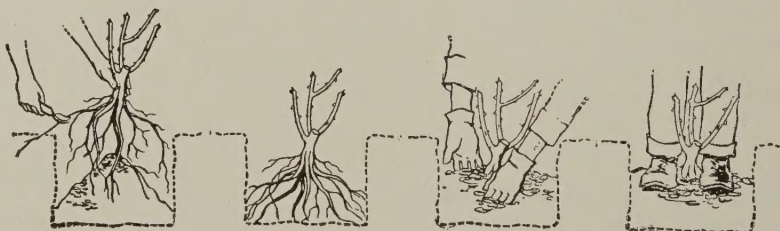

Keeping the roots in water or thin mud until planted to prevent their getting dry

PEONIES

Peonies are long-lived plants that do not require transplanting unless they show signs of deterioration. For that reason it is worth while to be particular about the place where they are to be planted. Choose a sunny location that gets good drainage. Dig deep, and use some well-rotted cow manure or a commercial fertilizer to enrich the soil. Bonemeal is also recommended.

The best months for setting out Peonies are September and October. Be careful not to place them too deep, for deep planting may keep them from blooming. The eyes should be only 2 inches below the soil surface. A Bordeaux spray will control diseases that occasionally attack Peonies.

HEMEROCALLIS (DAYLILY)

Unless otherwise noted, 45 cts. each; 3 for $1; $3.50 per doz.; six plants at the dozen rate

‡Useful for cutting. *Alpine or rock-plants

The hybridizers have wrought wonders with the old-fashioned Daylily. The improvements include a wider color range, an extended period of bloom, larger flowers, and sturdier plants. What is more, Hemerocallis are amazing in their adaptability; they are extremely hardy and will thrive under the most ordinary conditions, blooming in full sun or partial shade. Their vigor is especially evident in dry seasons and insect pests have little effect on them.

‡Dr. Regel. Rich orange-yellow. May.

‡Flava. Sweet-scented; clear yellow. June.

‡Florham. Golden yellow.

‡Kwanzo. A distinct double-flowering form of rich golden bronze. July, August.

*‡Minor. 18 in. A miniature form with pale yellow flowers. May, June.

‡Thunbergi. Buttercup-yellow. July, August.

‡Hyperion

This variety is one of the most popular and beautiful of all Daylilies, and we heartily recommend it for every garden. The large flowers are pale canary-yellow in color, and appear in July and August—just at the time when the summer garden needs rejuvenation. Once you have a nice planting of Hyperion you will wonder how you ever got along without it. A prolific bloomer, it makes a spectacular showing. Plant at least three in a group, and watch them grow more beautiful every year. 3½ ft.

‡Apricot. 2 ft. Apricot-yellow. May, June.

‡August Pioneer. 2½ ft. Chrome-orange blooms of medium size. Especially valuable for its late period of bloom—early August through September. $1.25 each; 3 for $3.50.

‡Bagdad. 5 ft. Large flowers borne on plants of considerable height; coppery red petals with orange throat. July. $1.50 each.

‡Boutonniere. 2½ ft. Flourishing clusters of small flowers. The throat of each is orange-yellow with darker petals. August, September. 75 cts. each; 3 for $2.

‡Cinnabar. 2 to 3 ft. Orange base, sprinkled cinnamon; recurving sepals and petals. Very free blooming. July. 75 cts. each; 3 for $2.

‡Curly Pate. 4½ ft. Medium-sized yellow, cup-shaped flowers with petals curled at the ends.

‡D. D. Wyman. 3 ft. Golden yellow with tawny splashes. Late June, July. 50 cts. each; 3 for $1.25.

‡Dover. 4 ft. Large; clear orange. June, July. 40 cts. each; 3 for $1.

‡Fulva rosea. 3 ft. Fulvous rose with a red zone and yellow shading at the base. A choice variety of subtle color. July, August. $2.50 each.

‡George Yeld. 4 ft. Distinctly large; the outer petals are rich orange-yellow and the inner flushed with rose. July, August. 75 cts. each; 3 for $2.

‡Gloriana. 3 ft. Large; clear orange. June. 75 cts. each; 3 for $2.

‡Goldeni. 2 ft. Deep golden orange; attractive in form; very free-flowering. Late June to August.

‡Gypsy. 3 ft. Striking deep orange coloring; greatly admired in our garden. July, August. 50 cts. each; 3 for $1.25.

‡Imperator. 4 ft. A distinct variety with rich orange-red coloring. July, August. 60 cts. each; 3 for $1.50.

‡J. A. Crawford. Clear gold. 60 cts. each; 3 for $1.50.

‡J. R. Mann. 2½ ft. Golden yellow. July, August. 50 cts. each; 3 for $1.25.

TWINK

KING ALFRED

Narcissus provide the first big show of all the spring bulbs. Their gay yellow and white blooms dancing in the April sun and showers are really lovely. They like a soil that is not too heavy and has good drainage. Bonemeal mixed with the soil before the bulbs are planted will furnish the necessary plant-food. Plant them in early fall, about 4 or 5 inches deep. The bulbs may be left undisturbed from year to year until the flowers begin to get smaller; then the bulbs should be lifted and replanted in new soil. Do not cut off the foliage until it has thoroughly ripened.

Cheerfulness. Clusters of creamy white flowers with a trace of yellow in the center. Very fragrant. 4 for 75 cts.; $2 per doz.

Croesus. Perianth primrose-yellow, with thick overlapping petals; an unusually large crown of deep orange-red. 4 for 75 cts.; $2 per doz.

Diana Kasner. Pure white perianth; large fluted yellow cup with blood-red frill. 4 for 75 cts.; $2 per doz.

King Alfred. Golden yellow. Excellent for cutting. 4 for 75 cts.; $2 per doz.

Laurens Koster. Pure white perianth; orange-yellow cup. Cluster of three on a stem; fragrant. 4 for 50 cts.; $1.25 per doz.

Mrs. R. O. Backhouse. White perianth; trumpet creamy white edged and shaded with a distinct tinge of pink. $1.50 each; 3 for $4.

Olympia. Sulphur-yellow perianth; yellow frilled trumpet. 4 for 75 cts.; $2 per doz.

Helleborus niger (Christmas Rose)

HELLEBORUS NIGER (Christmas Rose)

A legend about the Christmas Rose concerns a girl named Madelon who lived near Bethlehem. On the first Christmas Eve she followed her brother, who was a shepherd, to the manger of the Christ Child. But since she had no gifts to offer like those of her brother and his friends, she turned sadly away. The Angel Gabriel asked the cause of her unhappiness. When he learned that she was too poor to make an offering to the new King, he caused Christmas Roses to appear on the ground in front of Madelon. Gathering these, she presented them to the Holy Child.

This charming story accounts for the most unusual thing about this plant—the fact that it blooms in the winter. The flowers are slightly cupped and star shaped. Purplish tints appear on the buds, then the flower is white, pinkish, and finally pale green. A partly shaded location is best, and the soil should be enriched with equal parts of manure, leaf-mold, sand, and good loam. Plenty of water is needed. This hardy perennial will arouse great interest wherever it is planted. 95 cts. each; 3 for $2.50; $9.50 per doz.

Primula polyanthus
